Please note that the location of the 3 mount holes vary in location across the block slightly in each model and that the location of the arm holes are in different locations also.

The best way to check if you have the correct block is to print this sheet actual size (check that you have by comparing the length) and lay your top plate over the blocks. The 3 mount holes need to line up pretty well, the arm hole can be a little off but you should be able to see the hole. The string holes are more flexible but again you should be able to see the holes.

If in doubt please contact us.
